Job Description

REACH ASSESSMENT OFFICER ROHINGYA RESPONSE FOR BANGLADESH

(Reference: 20/BGD/AO01)

BACKGROUND ON IMPACT AND REACH

REACH was born in 2010 as a joint initiative of two International NGOs (IMPACT Initiatives and ACTED) and the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) Operational Satellite Applications Programme (UNOSAT). REACH’s purpose is to promote and facilitate the development of information products that enhance the humanitarian community’s decision making and planning capacity for emergency, reconstruction and development contexts, supporting and working within the framework of the humanitarian reform process. REACH facilitates information management for aid actors through three complementary services: (a) need and situation assessments facilitated by REACH teams; (b) situation analysis using satellite imagery; (c) provision of related database and (web)-mapping facilities and expertise.

IMPACT Initiatives is a humanitarian NGO, based in Geneva, Switzerland. The organisation manages several initiatives, including the REACH Initiative. The IMPACT team comprises specialists in data collection, management and analysis, GIS and remote-sensing. IMPACT was launched at the initiative of ACTED, an international NGO whose headquarter is based in Paris and is present in thirty countries. The two organizations have a strong complementarity formalized in a global partnership, which allows particularly IMPACT to benefit from ACTED’s operational support on its fields of intervention.

We are currently looking for multiple REACH Assessment Officers to join our team in Bangladesh.

Position: REACH Assessment Officer

Contract duration: 6 months

Location: Cox’s Bazar, Bangladesh

COUNTRY PROFILE

In successive waves over four decades, stateless Rohingya refugees have been fleeing to Bangladesh from Rakhine State, Myanmar, where they have suffered systematic, ongoing persecution. Since August 2017, an estimated 745,000 refugees have arrived in Cox’s Bazar, Bangladesh, bringing the total number to more than 900,000. The displacement marks the latest stage in one of the world’s most complex ongoing human rights crises. While they have found safe haven from persecution in Bangladesh, the Rohingya have faced new constraints on building self-reliant and dignified lives. Refugees are currently confined to 34 crowded settlements, with limited freedom of movement, heavily restricted access to livelihoods and cash, and no provision of formal education. As a consequence, they remain in a highly precarious situation, dependent on humanitarian assistance to cover their basic needs, and vulnerable to natural disasters, and the activities of criminal groups.
At the same time, Cox’s Bazar District is among the most deprived areas of Bangladesh. The local community have expressed concerns that the refugee influx may have exacerbated the existing burden of unemployment and difficulties accessing essential services in the region. In areas where refugees and host communities live side by side, many are now accessing the same services and depend on the same labour markets, creating potential sources of tension as well as common vulnerabilities to hazards and shocks.

Since September 2017, IMPACT’s REACH Initiative has been deployed to Bangladesh to help meet the information needs of humanitarian actors operating in Cox’s Bazar District and build a better understanding of the needs of displaced and host populations. Supported by assistance from ECHO, UNICEF, and UNHCR, REACH is carrying out the following activities:

- Joint multi-sector needs assessment (MSNA): in collaboration with the inter-sector coordination group (ISCG), REACH works to implement comprehensive MSNAs of both refugee and host community populations to provide a rigorous evidence base for the humanitarian response planning process in line with the commitments of the Grand Bargain.

- Support to disaster preparedness: REACH’s technical specialists have supported the ISCG’s Natural Hazard Risk Assessment Task Force to produce hazard and risk maps identifying areas of refugee settlements exposed to greater risks of natural hazards such as landslides and flooding. This work has been critical in ensuring site planners have the information they need to mitigate the risks posed to refugees by the monsoon and cyclone season.

- Integrated support to the Cox’s Bazar WASH sector: Since 2017, REACH has been providing a package of assessment, monitoring, and analysis to support to the WASH sector at all points in the humanitarian programme cycle. Activities have ranged from regular household assessments, mapping and monitoring of almost 100,000 infrastructure points, and carrying out targeted thematic assessments on issues such as menstrual hygiene management.

- In-depth thematic assessments: REACH works regularly with key sector working groups to implement thematic assessments in response to identified information needs. This has included a Joint Education Needs Assessment, periodic monitoring of safety and access to services for the protection sector, and an ongoing Child Protection Needs Assessment.

In the coming year, REACH programming will focus on a continuation of the above projects, with an increased focus on building Sector and partner capacity to implement assessments autonomously, and to better close feedback loops by involving affected populations in research design, data collection, and dissemination.
